HONOLULU – Amanda Robinson, 23, was indicted by the O‘ahu grand jury and charged in connection with the alleged attempted murder of her stepson while he was in her sole custody at their home on Schofield Barracks. The grand jury returned an indictment against Robinson on one count of Attempted Murder in the Second Degree. A bench warrant in the amount of $500,000 was issued for her arrest.

Prosecuting Attorney Steve Alm vowed to pursue justice for the critically-injured boy. “There is no excuse for violence against children,” he said. “We will hold Robinson accountable for her alleged crime against this defenseless boy,” he continued. “I thank the Honolulu Police Department for its efforts to investigate this matter, as well as the healthcare professionals who have worked so hard to treat this young victim,” he said.

A conviction for Attempted Murder in the Second Degree carries a mandatory penalty of life in prison with the possibility of parole.

The case is being prosecuted by Family Prosecution Division Team Captain Kristen Yamamoto.

Robinson is presumed innocent until proven guilty.
